

A word cloud consisting of the word "Prayer" repeated multiple times. The words are arranged in a diagonal line from the top-left to the bottom-right. Each word is in a different size and orientation, creating a sense of movement and depth. The background is a light gray gradient.

My holy one. Allow me the breadth of your vision and language. Share your gifts through the purity of words unknown to me, allow them to flow through me and onto others as a thread of mutable light. Give me the powers to reject the distortions of my mind and receive the silent grace that submits to all crucifixion.

My holy one, grant me that tranquility of spirit and truth of heart, so that all elements may appear as they are, exempt of confusions. Permit my being to the shadowy noesis beyond my grasp.

To be with the path that reveals the hidden eternal in every faction of my spirit.
